Crowds Jam Jerome and Cassia Grounds Today as Both Counties Open Fairs

Crowds of spectators and exhibitors swarmed over the Jerome and Cassia county fairgrounds Thursday morning as the two expositions opened their gates on the top 1956 agricultural products of the residents of the two counties. Officials at both fairs at Jerome and Burley reported that visitors were among the largest ever to attend first days at the fairs. The temperature at both fairgrounds stood in the 90's and the sun beat down from a nearly cloudless sky. On schedule, the judges of both expositions began to the task of appraising entries and at Jerome several champions and reserve champions had been selected by noon.

In the 4-H sheep fitting and showing contest, John D. Mansfield, who was named grand champion and May Bryan, Jerome, reserve champion. In the 4-H horse and colt fitting and showing contest, John D. Mansfield, Jerome, was declared champion and Diane Matson, Nampa, reserve champion. Danny Slivers, Eden, was grand champion in the 4-H goat and sheep showing contest and Burton Schulte, Jerome, was reserve champion.

John Clarence Bechtold, Canyon country, was beef judge, and James Wheeler, Hailey, judged the horses and poultry. The cattle and hog showings at both fairgrounds were jammed with spectators, there actually was little activity. Most of the spectators were watching the various judging areas, carefully watching the judges as ribbons were placed.

Food and concession booths were open and, in deference to the high temperatures, those serving cooling drinks received a big play. The caravans of the two expositions were in full swing Thursday morning.

Officials at the Jerome fair said there were more entries than there have been in previous years. For example, entries in the sheep division were up by 80 per cent, they said.

At the Cassia fair, which began yesterday morning and during the afternoon 4-H girls projects were

GOP Foreign Policy Planks Under Attack

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (UPI)—Sen. George Mansfield, D. Mont., a member of the Senate foreign relations committee, has charged that the foreign policy ideas expressed at the Republican national convention as untenable.

Rep. George H. Mahan, D. Wash., chairman of the house small business committee, accused Washington Gov. Arthur B. Langlie, GOP leader, of making "false statements" about the Republican idea to small business.

Republican Speaks

At the same time, a Republican—Rep. Usher L. Burdick, N. Dak.—has charged that the foreign policy cost the GOP congressional seats in North Dakota and possibly their wheat-belt states.

Mahar, who is Eisenhower's administrative chief, has failed to come up with a single new idea" on foreign policy.

"Contrary to 1952 campaign promises," he said, "the GOP administration is still depending largely on Democratic foreign policies which many of us felt had outlived their usefulness."

Discusses Claims

Mahar discounted foreign policy claims made by former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who was a delegate to the Republican convention. Dewey told the delegates yesterday that President Eisenhower kept a "responsible" foreign policy of his own, but that President Truman's administration "poorly handled" it.

Dewey, who was a delegate to the 1952 campaign, said the GOP administration is still depending largely on Democratic foreign policies which many of us felt had outlived their usefulness."

Cities Slogans

Instead of new ideas, Mahar said, the Republicans "have given slogan after slogan, high sounding, such as 'no cold war,' 'no talk of war,' and various others." Palman said Langlie was only "20 percent right" in saying the government's record in the Korean conflict made more than $200 million dollars worth of loans during three years of GOP control of the government.

The Texas Democrat said he has made only $2 million dollars loans to small business under Eisenhower administration.

judged. The judging of livestock and produce entries will be held during the first week and continued through the second.

Burley's annual children's parade, held every year since 1947, was held at 1 p.m. Thursday. Children's day was observed at the fair Thursday and all children under 12 years of age were admitted free instead of making their wearers speak like farmers or ranchers, they gave them the appearance of cowboys. The rodeo show, which has been held for 12 years, will be held for children.

To advertise the fair this year, male residents of Burley began about a month ago to grow beards. The beards were very much in evidence at the fair Thursday. Instead of making their wearers speak like farmers or ranchers, they gave them the appearance of cowboys. The rodeo show, which has been held for 12 years, will be held for children.

Step Taken in Giant Aviation Safety Project

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (UPI)—The government took the first step yesterday in a big three-year program in which 250 million dollars will be spent to improve aviation safety and get airports ready for the jet plane era.

The civil aeronautics administration announced yesterday the latest types of air navigation and traffic control equipment, including long range radar units which eventually will share the sky with jets.

Among the early contracts will be those for production of 25 long range radar units to cost between $75,000 and $100,000 each. Eventually 100 more will be produced.

Addition of the next 25 units to 18 months will make about 30 in operation.

At the same time, 100 new radars will be installed.

Besides New York, Washington, Norfolk and Chicago, for which long-range radars are in operation or about to be installed, other main areas are Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle and Spokane, Wash.

The very high frequency omnidirectional radio range program for 1957 includes Atlanta, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Fort Worth, Houston, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, San Antonio, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Spokane, Wash., and Tulsa.

Equipment for automatic weather broadcasting will be installed at the following locations: Omaha, Neb.; Ames, Iowa; Des Moines, Iowa; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Sioux City, Iowa; Lincoln, Neb.; Denver, Colo.; Missoula, Mont.; and Spokane, Wash.

New Wrinkle for Schools Problem Noted for Parley

YAKIMA, Aug. 23 (UPI)—A new wrinkle to the school problem was brought up at the opening session of the fifth annual school building conference.

Too many junior high school buildings, some 180 northwest educators said, are being built without being planned to accommodate the proper age level.

That was the conclusion of Dr. Merle Johnson, professor of education at University of Idaho, in a speech at which he urged cooperation with Architects Minoru Yamamoto, Royal Oak, Mich., who said that "pupil-to-pupil relationship gets to be very important" at the junior high school level.

Disgruntled Man To Revitalize Bull Moose's Program

BRUNSWICK, Me., Aug. 23 (UPI)—Andrew Lindley, 54, said he fumed and raged at the televised proceedings of the Democratic national convention until he was goaded into doing something about it.

What he did was to enroll as a member of the Bull Moose party in registering yesterday to vote.

The regular told him that no Bull Moose party exists—it died out after the 1948 elections. But Lindley, who registered for the first time in Maine, said he objected to the speeches and what he called the "manipulations" at the two major party conventions.

Plans Changed for Shoshone Hospital

SHOSHONE, Aug. 22—in increased session Tuesday night, Lincoln county commissioners met with members of the public to discuss the proposed hospital.

Plans for the Wood River Community Hospital were cut to 100 beds because of the lack of money made, the architect will meet with state public health officials at Boise, who must approve the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Lewis will teach in the miners' union hall. Mrs. Lewis is a 1953 graduate from Grandview High School.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Wehrlich and Mrs. William Barnard, first; Mrs. Ollie Alkin and Harry Lightfoot, second; Mrs. J. C. McMinn and Mrs. Bob Wallace, third.

East and West winners were Mrs. Sturgeon McCoy and Mrs. C. R. Fox, first; Mrs. Charles Lundy and Mrs. Edna Miller, second; Mrs. Harold Armstrong and Mrs. J. Frank Henry, third.

Sixteen other western wool growers also will be observing the special week.

"Wool has long been an important and integral part of the economy of the state and also a source of income to the Hill-Burton federal funds. One-half of the Hill-Burton federal funds will be provided by the federal government," the governor said. "I urge the people of Idaho to join in the greater use and appreciation of wool."

Contributions may be left with Mrs. Linda Kinsey, county auditor, at the courthouse; Max Hill, Richfield, or Preston. Price, Dietrich.

Grangers to Hold Drill for Meeting

SHOSHONE, Aug. 22—the annual Grange meeting will be held at the Wood River Center Grange meeting Saturday night. Mrs. Clifford Slutzman, home economics chairwoman, will be in charge and the funds raised will go to the Idaho Ranch for Youth.

Mrs. Slutzman also will advise women of the Grange to enter in the pie-making contest Saturday night as they will be judged that night.

Kiwanis Sees Airline Movie

The constant maintenance of four twin-engine airplanes flying the circuit and the detailed work done by the maintenance men and women is shown Twin Falls Kiwanis Club members patrol in front of cafe.

The United Air Lines film, "Flying Colors," was shown following the club's weekly luncheon at the American Legion hall.

Presenting the film, "awards were made to Kiwanis winning gold matches during the annual tournament," according to the club.

Member Bobby Bopp, Twin Falls Kiwanis Club, reported on a cause of his in which a Twin Falls woman was inside a closed room or house for any purpose is extremely dangerous," he said. He believed the fire which killed 100 people in the building north was caused by gas furnaces.

Bopp said he did not know what ignited the fumes.

Elvianor Mitchell, 31, Hunt, Bush, Idaho, was transferred from Twin Falls to the University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho, and will be a student at the university.

That was the conclusion of Dr. Merle Johnson, professor of education at University of Idaho, in a speech at which he urged cooperation with Architects Minoru Yamamoto, Royal Oak, Mich., who said that "pupil-to-pupil relationship gets to be very important" at the junior high school level.

Railroads Eye Rate Hikes to Help Business

NEW YORK. Aug. 22 (UPI)—Passenger and freight rate hikes are just two of the many moves the railroads look forward to help them make up a share of the transportation business bay.

Competition with the trucks, buses, auto, barges and planes is spawning new ideas in trains, tracks and service. This is partly to cut costs, partly to win or hold customers, and partly to prepare for the expected major increases in traffic and tonnage demands in the next ten years.

James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, predicted that freight traffic between the nation's cities will increase by 40 per cent in ten years if the railroads hold their present percentage of freight trade.

Today's railroads haul 700 billion tons of freight a year.

Public interest has been caught by new styles in railroads. New York Central's aluminum streamlined Pennsylvania's tubular steel train, 40 per cent lighter than old style ones. Santa Fe's "cowboy" style train with a little more room than in conventional coaches; Southern Pacific's and Burlington's two-level "comfy-coaches"; Pullman's "slumbercoach" which can carry 62 coach passengers or be converted quickly into sleeping accommodations for 30.

Freight rates are being changed, too. Maryland and Ohio has a combination truck and box car with two sets of wheels—one for use on highways, the other for use on railways.

A radioactive box car is planned.

Foods to be preserved through irradiation would be sealed through its own protective belt and then loaded in other cars.

Yards have been redesigned and mechanized to speed movement.

Panama Canal's Mount of Crosses has a new railroad track load scale which will handle up to 400 tons, using the job electronically.

Exam Slated

ROCHESTER. Aug. 23 (UPI)—Dr. Sherry S. Humey, a neurologist formerly on the staff of State Hospital South, said yesterday he plans to take the exam for state medical licensure and hopes to resume payable work for the state health board next year.

He conferred during the day with

Dale L. Johnson, chairman of the state board of medicine, and one other member of the six-man board.

Safety Violations Of Train Claimed

HOUSINGTON. Aug. 23 (UPI)—U.S. Atty. Kenneth Berenguer today charged the Union Pacific railroad with violating safety standards in two of its railroads, inspected in November last year.

He said in a federal court complaint that one train had a car with explosives attached to the engine and the other had a tank car with sulphuric acid next to a loaded fire car.

Berenguer said both incidents violated regulations of the Interstate commerce commission.

Wants Quiet

BUTLER, N.J. Aug. 23 (UPI)—Mrs. Karl Greiner told the town fathers she would rather go to jail than pay a personal tax bill of $12.67.

She said the city has been "months and months" putting in taxes from her home in a new home and it would be all right if she went to jail because "it would be quieter there."

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—An appeal for the vote of every possible and influential racial minority in the country was characteristic of the two major political parties' planks on foreign affairs. Domestic policies and pressures lie behind their pledge for "freedom" of satellite peoples, larger areas and a continued flow of American money for both developed and underdeveloped countries.

The Democrats promise to press the cause of Germans, Poles, Balts, Balkans and Slavic nations. Dulles did not dare to use John Foster Dulles' old slogan of "liberation" of the satellite peoples, namely, "liberation" of the satellites. In fact, opposition leaders have sometimes denounced him as "fantastic," unless we are willing to go to war with Russia.

DEMOCRATIC PLANK—The Democrats urge strengthening of NATO, which were advanced and strengthened during the Korean War. They do not share the same interest and concern in Dulles' plan to expand and METO alliances. The Democrats regard them as mere "paper pacts" as evidence of the "distrust" of the democratic democrats.

Another proposal planned by the democratic-socialists was watered down by the platform makers at Chicago. It was incorporated in a draft submitted by Ben Cohen, a key figure under PDR to "redress the dangerous imbalance in the Middle East." Redressing the balance was agreed to by EEC.

With the Suez canal crisis boiling before their eyes, the committee voted to plank for shipment only of "defensive" weapons to Tel Aviv.

REJECTED PROPOSALS—From a draft presented by Dean Acheson, Truman's secretary of state and FDR's undersecretary of treasury and state, the platform rejected an attack on Secretary Dulles for "ineptly" attacking China, a tiny island.

India would remain at peace with Russia. They did not want to offend the relatively few voters of Portuguese origin in New England.

Another rejected Cohen proposal was severe criticism of Sen. Joe McCarthy's "reckless" denunciation of Communism. The committee voted that McCarthy's views are popular in many sections of the country, especially his opposition to trade with or recognition of China.

Democrats, although they may not understand or appreciate the meaningful gesture, the plank demands in favor of self-determination on the basis of "geographic and ethnic integrity."

POLITICAL NOT STATESMANLIKE—This is the argument advanced by South (Catholic) Ireland and union with North and Protestant Ireland, and reuniting with Great Britain. The committee voted to circulate and sections. It is also the pitch offered by the Poles, Germans, Balts, Balkans and Slavic peoples who have been torn asunder by Russian conquest and domination.

In fact, it is no exaggeration to suggest that there is more in the two planks for overseas peoples than for the American electorate.

As usual, both planks on this important point are not recognizable as diplomatic documents, political rather than statesmanlike documents, as political bait rather than an outline of long-range policy. So will both President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson, who will develop their own and possibly different ideas in the campaign.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

MORE OF BUREAUCRACY?

Argument on one side of the proposition on which Idaho potato growers will be voting next Monday has been well presented in a vigorously opposing statement put out by the Association of Idaho Potato Producers.

The proposal is to put handling and processing of potatoes under the state under federal government supervision. Presently the control is limited to interstate handling.

The processors oppose the proposal because, they say, it would "impose upon the industry rules which have to be adopted and graded before moving into the channels of commerce." That they say, would "impose upon Idaho potato growers an added expense which would result in a loss of profit to the grower."

The processors argue that it should not be because of the possibility that adoption of the proposal might seriously affect their operations and might even put them out of business. If, for instance, they were required to use up all of their surplus in the production of potato chips, flour, starch or dehydrated potatoes.

No such exception is to be taken to the objections raised by the processors. Marshall says, "It is not that 90 years through thick and thin, has been a highly successful grower and distributor of Idaho potatoes." "If this goes through," Mr. Marshall says, "we might as well fold up our business because it will cost too much to make any money." He reviewed the current season's potato deal with its "best month ever," and he cut loose in conclusion with his decision to stay out of the market and let others try to run Idaho's business. There are plenty of smart men in the state to take care of Idaho. Leave the existing regulations and kick all the others out or leave the state.

There must be some sort of promise of advantages in the proposal. Otherwise the proposition wouldn't come to a vote.

The only real question for Idaho potato growers to decide seems to be whether to continue reliance on their own efforts with such regulations as they already have, or to lean more upon federal bureaucracy. The proposal, if adopted, will not only affect the potato business, particularly with its ill-starred venture into price supports, isn't one that inspires much confidence.

MATHEMATICS CONTEST

Everybody has been worried about the drastic shortage of scientists and engineers throughout the country. But it doesn't seem that there has been a great deal done about it.

That's why it's a nice change of pace to hear that a man in East Palestine, Ohio, has taken the matter into his own hands.

No, he isn't trying to start a nationwide crusade. He just introduced a mathematics contest at the local high school.

For Leonard Yoder, executive secretary of the East Palestine Chamber of Commerce, was worried about the decline of student interest in that subject. He realized that training in mathematics is an important factor in the technical manpower shortage.

So Yoder arranged for $230 in awards from prominent business and manufacturing concerns to be presented to students who prepared the best exhibits of mathematics in our economy. Now the contest has become an annual affair.

Recently Sen. Richard Russell, D., Ga., chairman of the Senate armed services committee, praised the competition as a "good example" of what communities all over the country could do to build up scientific manpower.

We'll go along with that 100 per cent. And we hope numerous others pick up the idea.

The treasury department says the average dollar bill lasts about nine months. What a sense of humor!

CONDENSED

HARDY TUCKER—A few weeks ago we bid you good constituents a fond farewell, said this corner would be occupied by something else for a while.

But of course it couldn't be two weeks because we distinctly remember saying we might be back in business at this same old corner within maybe a week. And here we are again, this time for a week. Well, that's the way it goes: the older you get, the faster time passes.

WHAT CAN WE EXPECT?

Several days ago we touched on the subject of driver training in our schools and the part it is supposed to play in reducing the number of fatalities on our highways.

For some reason other, nothing seems to be playing much of a part in bringing Idaho's highway slasher under control. We're so far ahead of last year in lives lost in automobile accidents that it makes law enforcement and everything else look ridiculous.

We're not arguing that driver training in our schools is ineffective. In theory at least, that's one knows about handling an automobile, the better driver he should be, providing he also develops the proper attitude.

We do contend, however, that too much emphasis is placed on certain questionable benefits of driver training in the schools. Too often it is suggested that youngsters can drive faster, take more chances and the like because of such training and their sharper reflexes.

That, to our way of thinking, is nothing more than an excuse to condone recklessness and irresponsible driving by juveniles. But instead of discouraging such driving, it only encourages such youngsters to become more daring.

Neither do we subscribe to the convenient reasoning that only a very small percentage of youngsters and adults are crazy drivers, so actually there is no real cause for alarm. If it weren't for the vital statistics, we might let it go at that. But the minority that consists in burning up the highways, running stop signs and endangering human lives is taking a toll that has grown by leaps and bounds.

Driver training in our schools was not designed to teach youngsters how to burn rubber, go around corners on two wheels, and scare the lives out of pedestrians.

When juvenile recklessness reaches the point of driving 100 miles an hour with the lights turned off, to demonstrate how well a daring youngster can herd an automobile at that speed into darkness, taking a human life in the process, it illustrates the extreme to which all this sort of thing can go. Just recently we witnessed that very sort of thing in our own community.

Idaho may be no worse than any other state when it comes to problems in coping with juvenile delinquency, but the state is failing miserably in taking any effective action against the problem.

This week we had a good example right here in Twin Falls. A tavern operator, charged with selling beer to minors, escaped prosecution when the four state witnesses, all under 21, hesitated to testify on the grounds they would incriminate themselves. A state statute provides that any minor purchasing beer is guilty of a misdemeanor. So, on the recommendation of the assistant prosecuting attorney, the court dismissed the charge!

It was just as simple as that, but it sets a nice precedent. Hereafter tavern operators may feel a little more secure in selling beer to minors and the youngsters frequenting such places will be a little less apprehensive about getting into trouble.

Meanwhile, another, so-called youth rehabilitation act, passed during the last session of our state legislature, is complicating the picture all the more.

In recent years the youngsters of Idaho have been given a liberal education on how to circumvent the law because the state itself has failed miserably in setting up a juvenile code that even comes close to making sense.

And if the people themselves continue to remain as complacent in this respect as they have in the past, the next session of the legislature probably will do little if anything about it. In that event it will be just a continuing demonstration of democracy at work.

HOGGATHAWK

Everybody has been worried about the dramatic shortage of scientists and engineers throughout the country. But it doesn't seem that there has been a great deal done about it.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

SAN FRANCISCO—With a constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech, from publication to city-side legends whipping around at an expense of millions of dollars, the program of degrees under the pretense of national emergency is the most that could be sought was a moral and largely successful experiment in dictatorship.

Eleanor Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins were greatly impudent in the Hopkins version, that all Americans in service uniforms be drafted for forced labor to work in the hills to jobs a thousand miles from home if the bureaucrat in charge so ordered. It would have been an easy way to keep the guard of guarding the Eisenhowers are concerned, Cypress Point is almost a perfect spot for the President to take a favorite retreat.

There was almost no protest at the time of this Democratic and Republican conventions has been.

One great suppression is not an act caused by fascism, but an enormous and incompetence. The truth is that both the Democratic and Republican parties are socialist and are merely two rival wings of the same party.

The constitution because it has provided plain impediment to their trachea.

Eisenhower's party is an adaptation of the Roosevelt-Truman program and the fact that rich men are prominent and strong in Eisenhower's machine is based on the fact that he is a member of the Roosevelt family.

The Socialists went out of business, took down the sign and gave the place up for the Roosevelt administration.

The Rooseveltites have drawn comprehensive maps and charts of all features of the surrounding area.

The Lodge itself stands back from the road and out of sight from the ocean and the first floor is occupied by service agents who have blocked off all roads into the lodge. The agents have also made an investigation of the place and have drawn comprehensive maps and charts of all features of the surrounding area.

We railed at beds in the state department, agriculture and the islands of the White House.

The truth is that the Constitution is doomed and already cold and clammy with the dew of death upon it. Both parties are so far gone in Marx that even the Little Communist Party has been recently cast out of a long spell of penitence.

We thought the Socialists was a rather decent if dreamy fellow and whoever objected to social security as a violation of the Constitution, to buy certain insurance and to insist on certain terms was laughed out of the forum by the cult and abandoned without the greater filtration of dedicated souls no less hateful toward the Constitutional verbiage.

The Eisenhower party took over the White House and the administrative buildings without the professional white exploiters of the Negro's yearning "moderation" meant "betrayal," as though he were a scoundrel, a rascal, a chancer, who could possibly offend the ones who have made a career of betrayals.

The mission of the Socialists in the United States was stolen by the cult and abandoned without the support of the Republicans. Robert Taft.

The so-called Democratic party has largely accomplished in his first two terms.

The truth is all that way and if they could endow themselves, undoubtedly would want it so because the Constitution has no voice nor personality.

In Chicago, Roy Howard, one of the principal editors of the newspaper broker, died suddenly after a brief illness at the age of 61. His widow, Mrs. Howard, was a widow of the principal frauds at the time he died.

Stevenson and Roy Howard were living in the same house in Chicago, and he was a widow of a recent emigrant from Ireland.

He was a member of the Roosevelt party, took office in the White House and the administration buildings without the professional white exploiters of the Negro's yearning "moderation" meant "betrayal," as though he were a scoundrel, a rascal, a chancer, who could possibly offend the ones who have made a career of betrayals.

The mission of the Socialists in the United States was stolen by the cult and abandoned without the support of the Republicans. Robert Taft.

New Radiation Aids in Saving Food and Meat

UNIVERSITY, Pa., Pa., Aug. 23.—An army doctor forecast today that preservation will soon be able to keep fresh meat and other perishables at room temperature on open shelves—thanks to atomic energy.

Dr. Herman F. Kravill, director of the medical nutrition laboratory of Fitzsimons Army hospital, Denver, Colo., said food exposed to certain types of atomic radiation can be sterilized and preserved for long periods of time.

He told the fifth annual Pennsylvania health conference at Pennsylvania State University that the rays do not harm the food. He said the foods have a nutritive value equal to, or sometimes better than, those given conventional heat processing.

Dr. Kravill said the defense department since 1954 has been coordinating the over-all effort in research in "radiation preservation."

He highlighted studies as "an important advance in the percentage of atomic energy and will introduce revolutionary and important changes in food technological development."

Prices Compared

WENDELL, Aug. 23.—Richard Jans, agricultural chairman, compared prices of vegetables last year with those last year at a meeting of the Wendell Grange Tuesday.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Elmer Johnson, taking part were Mrs. H. J. Hamilton, Mr. Art Bye and Mrs. Johnson's preference was served by Mrs. Louella Faust and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Hayes.

'Joe Smith' Is Nominated to Post of Nixon than Nixon. Who? asked Carpenter. She didn't know, said Mrs. Abel. Find out, she said. Mrs. Abel stopped a moment with Carpenter.

Arizona State To Close Case

In River Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23 (UPI)—Arizona prosecutors today filed a case in the Colorado river water suit after 10 weeks of presenting evidence.

Assistant Attorney John P. Frank said he needed only a few minutes this morning to "brush up" on a few points before formal opening arguments began at 12 weeks ago.

The trial, which will be held in federal court Master Clinch H. Rutherford, has been adjourned twice for a total of two weeks.

Arizona lawyers had argued before the state supreme court in a move to establish title to 3,800,000 annual acre feet of Colorado river water.

Counselors settled with a claim of 2,350,000 acre feet. There is not enough water in the river to satisfy the claims of both states.

The trial court ordered Rutherford to hear the case and to recommend a verdict.

After Arizona rested, he said,

California was asked to strike some 20 documents presented by Arizona as evidence.

The documents included the "blue book," a report on the Colorado river drawn up by the U. S. bureau of reclamation.

Northcutt City, California, attorney Bill Rutherford, said:

"The reason is that California does not want to be deprived of the opportunity to present 'the side of the story.'

However, he said, he would move to have the United States government file a motion to strike if nothing should deny that motion.

Eliz said he is prepared to open California's case Monday.

In the previous session, Arizona recalled to the stand Royce Tipton, a consulting water engineer and one of its principal witnesses.

Arizona Attorney General Kieran recalled him for further direct questioning on computations he had made regarding the water supply of the California dammed to cross-state and Arizona.

For the U. S. government to cross-examine Tipton briefly clarified technical points.

Cyclist Not Hurt In Vehicle Crash

A Twin Falls resident escaped serious injury Wednesday night when his motorcycle collided with a car near the city limits.

The car driven by Duane Bottoms, route one, Kimberly, and motorcycle driven by Sidney W. Riddle, 21, of Arco, were traveling west on Addison Avenue when the hood of the car skinned his elbow when he landed. He got up and around the car in time to stop his runaway motorcycle which was circling the car and the throttle partially open.

Damage to the front bumber, right fender, hood, grill and aerial of the car was estimated at $75 and the front fender, front tire and fork were set at $17.

Police said the Bottoms' car going east had driven into the Idaho Five Points west service station when it collided with the motorcycle which was traveling east.

Huge Backlog For Power on File With U.S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (UPI)—Applications on file with the federal power commission would bring an additional 3,700,000 kilowatts of energy to the Northwest.

That is about 15 times the output of Grand Coulee dam.

A check of the commission's files showed yesterday that many kilowatts of power had been proposed for projects in Oregon and Washington.

The proposals are in various stages of development, which must give the hydroelectric priority to a site while making engineering and financial studies. Others are in preliminary stages.

Others are in preliminary stages.

Some have reached the stage where the commission is considering bids for construction licenses.

The new power would be involved in sharp contrast to the 6,123,740 kilowatts represented by similar figures on the books last October.

The difference, however, is often largely due to construction permits issued by the commission in the last 10 months.

JOE McLEOD, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McLeod, of Route One, Piner, disappeared from his mother's side while she was shopping in the Idaho Department store at 10:30 a.m.

He was picked up at the corner of Sparce street and Caswell avenue at 8:45 p.m. Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Miller, of West, and taken to the police station where he was reunited with his parents.

RAM SALE SET

POCATELLO, Aug. 23 (UPI)—The 20th annual fall ram sale sponsored by the Idaho Wool Growers Association will be held Sept. 15 in Pocatello. Robert E. Miller, general chairman, said the show and sale will include all breeds of rams.

The possum, described as a "furry animal that works at his leisure," was named after his once contemporary dinosaur millions of years ago.

Stassen Tries To Repair His Party Career

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Harold E. Stassen today tried to repair the extensive damage his political career has suffered in the wake of the "dump Nixon" drive at the Republican national convention. Stassen appeared confident he could pull himself out of his present party even though his stand against the renomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon was a total failure.

Stassen's wife from GOP leaders, and even officials from his White House post, as Mr. Eisenhower's closest adviser. He said he would be back in Washington on Monday to resume his White House post as Mr. Eisenhower's closest adviser.

"I may leave or absent from the job before the GOP convention began to have a free hand in pushing his 'stop Nixon' drive."

There was some speculation that Stassen would voluntarily resign or would be requested to do so if he failed to prevent Nixon's renomination. But Stassen told reporters yesterday he had never divorced himself from the job.

Nevertheless, the question remained: Would Stassen be allowed to remain high and secure in his department's official family after bucking Nixon?

From the very start of his drive against Nixon, there were reports from administration sources that even if Stassen did remain in his cabinet-level job, he would be consigned to political isolation by having his name mentioned and being given less and less to do.

Stassen started his efforts to get back in line with the party by formally abandoning his opposition to Nixon and then going before the convention yesterday to second Nixon's nomination "with humility and forthrightness."

Cost of Living Goes Upward In Coast Area

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—The cost of living continued its upward trend during July in the major cities on the Pacific coast, reaching new highs in Los Angeles and San Francisco, according to the U.S. department of labor.

In Los Angeles, the retail price level climbed to an all-time peak of 148.68 per cent higher than the base year of 1939, up 1.2 per cent for July, a year ago.

The price level has been rising slowly but steadily since last February.

Retail prices in Portland reached a new high of 118.42 per cent above that for April 1956, while the index was last priced, and 3.4 per cent above that for July of last year.

San Francisco food prices, which had been rising more rapidly than the national average, rose 1.67 per cent to 113.3, the highest since June 1954 when it also was 113.3. The all-time peak was 117.7 in April 1955.

Bottle houses also paid more for identical food purchases last July than at any time since September 1955. At 115.0, the index of food prices in Seattle was 14.4 per cent above that for June and 14.4 per cent above that for July of last year.

DECREASE REPORTED

ROMA, Aug. 23.—After the Idaho employment security agency yesterday it received 134 claims for unemployment compensation last week, compared to 183 the week before.

Girl Knotholers Take Pennant

Idahoan Is Killed By Road Mishap

CALDWELL, Aug. 23.—A 31-year-old Caldwell laborer, Alfred Morris, was killed in an auto accident west of his home when his car hit the county's 1935 highway safety toll to four within two days. The death raised the total 1956 county toll to 15, breaking the record of 157, the number of persons killed on state highways in Idaho this year. There were 109 deaths on the state roads through Aug. 23 of last year.

Officer Sam Morris, a resident of Caldwell, who had been investigating the accident when his convertible skidded to the left side of state highway 19 and plunged into a borrow pit, was severely injured. Morris said the victim died of a broken neck.

Edward Gionatas, 25, Nampa, a passenger in the car, was uninjured. Three persons were killed in a two-car collision near Nampa Tuesday night.

Section Blocked

LONDON, Aug. 23.—A section of one of London's main-line railroad stations was roped off today after a woman fell from a platform and burst open on a platform.

There were no casualties and no injuries, police reported.

State's Delegates Dance and Shout As Ike Is Named

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Idaho delegates to the Republican national convention here danced Wednesday night during demonstrations for President Eisenhower.

"They had no special gimmicks like some of the states, but as each man was nominated, the delegation presented the proper song and danced," said the Rev. W. L. McDaniel, chairman of the delegation, east of state's 14 votes for Eisenhower and Nixon.

Three persons were killed in a two-car collision near Nampa Tuesday night.

Probe Begins

EASTBOURNE, England, Aug. 23.—(UPI)—Scotland Yard today started sifting information in the deaths of 300 wealthy widows in the belief that a plot to kidnap them for ransom was operating in this resort for the aged.

Eastbourne police said they found startling similarities in the deaths of the widows. All were found dead in their homes, fell from their beds and burst open on a platform.

There were no casualties and no injuries, police reported.

Republican Avers Tax Cuts Coming

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado told the Republican convention here that Americans can look forward to tax cuts during the next four years.

Thornton made the prediction in an address prepared for delivery to the Republican national convention when he answered charges made at the Democratic convention last week.

He said the Democrats claimed that Republicans didn't tax relief to middle and low-income families.

"The truth is our people—all of our people—not just a few, have lower taxes across the board, and they're going to be lowered some more in the next four Republican years," he said.

Thornton predicted the proper song and dance would continue throughout the day with the delegates from other states.

"It was like New Year's eve," one of the Idaho delegates said.

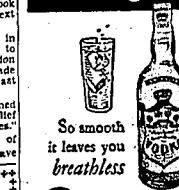

John S. Gourley, chairman of the delegation, cast the state's 14 votes for Eisenhower and Nixon.

Weapon Show

PARIS, Aug. 23.—Five police cars rushed to the scene when a man was reported brandishing a cavalry sabre under the lamps of a quiet Paris street.

The sabre-wielder, 43-year-old Mariano Gourdin, told he was trying to frighten his wife, whom he had beaten over the score of a billiards game. He was charged with carrying an unheathed weapon.

Mining Laws Changes Are Given Praise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (UPI)—A law passed by the 84th congress carried "probably the most significant change in the mining laws since the mining laws of 1872," Representative Engle, D. Calif., said yesterday.

The law is the multiple surface use act, Engle said in a report on activities of the house interior committee, of which he is chairman.

"Put simply, it says that it's open to the mineral law so as to permit the use of the surface and the subsurface of the same tract of public land for mining, multiple use, mineral activity at the same time management and utilization of forest products, foreign crops, grazing, fish, wildlife, deer, elk, mule deer, scenic and related resources go forward."

"The provisions," he added, "will also assure that extraction of minerals will prior to patenting be used to block access to adjacent lands—all without limiting or interfering with planned mining and mining activities."

Among other important mineral legislation passed by the 84th congress, Engle listed the bill to re-open the Alaskan oil fields. This opens up to entry approximately seven million acres of public land, all in the West, which had been withdrawn for power.

"Its enactment is one more legislative step in the drive to encourage search for, and development of, alternative critical domestic mineral and materials resources so vital to our economy," Engle said.

Librarian Decides Local Patrons Are Stealing Wholesale From Themselves

"People are stealing from themselves, wholesale," is the conclusion reached by City Librarian Arthur L. DeVolder after completing a study of the inventory of the Twin Falls public library.

So far DeVolder and his staff are only in the F's in fiction shelves but exactly 200 books are missing, he said. They expect to find another 1,000 books recovered by a maintenance crew which was "cleaning debris" along a highway near Eugene.

Another severe jolt was received when the library collections in fiction, non-fiction and reference material.

The average price paid by the library for books is $2.50, DeVolder concluded. To replace all these would approximate $3,000, which is $750 less than this year's budget for books.

This loss is recorded in a little more than one year, DeVolder pointed out. The last inventory was taken in April and May, 1955.

DeVolder planned to begin his inventory toward the first of the year, but when the city directory was taken DeVolder decided to see just how far the public had gone. Impetus was added on Aug. 11 when a small cloth-bound mystery book was received from the Oregon highway department. An economic status report was left with the book.

DeVolder said he has been investigating the matter for three times as many as surrounds him in the picture.

He has mailed about 3,450 reminder postcards, 102 bills and made an average of 10 phone calls a day since last November trying to get people to return books. (Staff photo-engraving)

New Twin Falls Brochure Ready

New Brochure Is Completed to Answer Tourist, Other Queries on Twin Falls

Final press runs have been completed on the new "Twin Falls and Environs" chamber brochure which will be used to answer tourist and other inquiries, reports Clifford H. Smith, chamber president.

The brochure is divided in three colors as smaller and more compact than ones used previously, but contain more pictures, Secretary-Manager Keneil K. Hayes of the chamber said.

"The brochure is the most important mailing piece to go out of a chamber office."

One of the largest single advantages of the brochure is that the cost of the booklet is negligible when compared to the expected results.

The brochure contains pictures

Hymns to Be Sung

HANSEN, Aug. 22—Hymns of Charles Wealey will be used as the basis for worship services at the First Methodist Church Sunday. Methodists church Sunday School at Hansen will be Marilyn Moore and Mrs. Laurel Buel will be accompanist.

"There were so many good pictures submitted," said Farmer, "that it was difficult to select one which would fit in. We got 200 pictures from all over Magic Valley and as far away as San Francisco."

He added that every statistic used in the brochure was checked and rechecked. "We found upon checking some figures that they had changed in just a few months," said Farmer. "The remaining figure is, however, current as of right now."

Montgomery estimated that the 25,000 copies printed would last approximately a year. Farmer said that a reprint is already being contemplated.

Because of the comparatively low cost, Montgomery said his office will distribute the brochure generally.

'Junior' Team Runs Party as Bosses Parley

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—The "junior" team ran the show today while the regular national convention was in progress in San Francisco.

President Eisenhower "as always comes to be in charge and keeps control from his convention headquarters."

The cabinet and lesser bosses also were available by telephone if they were needed.

Men Remain at Work

But from one end of the capital to the other, men on-the-spot men in the big marble buildings of the government ranged in dress from undershirts to a high-grade civil service employe.

The last department's top level was the emptiest. Deputy Labor Undersecretary Mervin L. Lober, a civil service employee ordinarily without executive authority, was in the room.

Others Listed

The treasury department is in the hands of Assistant Secretary Andrew N. Orrery. Assistant Secretary Frederick Murphy is in charge of the commerce department.

Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy is in charge of the state department. Deputy Undersecretary of State Paul Dulles is attending the Geneva peace conference and Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr., is at the convention.

Deputy Postmaster General Reuben H. Hedges is the top civilian at the Pentagon.

Race Department

Soldier General J. Leo Rankin is in charge of the race department. Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., Deputy Attorney General William Rogers and Assistant Attorney General George Clegg are in the Justice Department.

The agriculture department is in charge of Undersecretary True D. Moore. Undersecretary of Health, Dr. Harry S. Truman, is in charge of the department of health, education and welfare.

Undersecretary Clarence A. Davis remains the interior department, however, if you want to talk to him he has at the office of defense. He so happens that Defense Secretary Arthur S. Flemming is away.

SOLDIER PROMOTED

Major John H. G. Knapp, 35, of Atlanta, Georgia, Carroll C. Clegg, 25, of Eden, Pa., has been promoted to second-class master sergeant. He is a member of the 10th Infantry division in Germany.

Team Sweeps Play in Peanut League

No other home laundering product equals CLOROX® in germ-killing efficiency!

A Clorox-clean wash is more than a matter of pride...it's a matter of health protection, too. For Clorox not only bleaches, brightens, removes stains and odors...Clorox disinfects! So use Clorox every time you launder white and color-fast cotton and linen and white 100% nylon, rayon, Dacron, Orion and Dynel...and give your family the full measure of Clorox health protection. Directions on label.

Good housekeeping idea: A bottle of Clorox in bathroom and kitchen, as well as in the laundry. It's a great step never and health safeguard, too. Clorox disinfects as it removes stains and odors from tile, porcelain, linoleum, glass, plastic, wood, metal and more.

...a gentle way you can use it on white 100% cotton and rayon the same as on cotton and linen!

Every time you use CLOROX you protect family health!

Hoboes Meet, Pick Leaders, Get in Tussle

BEST, Ia., Aug. 23 (UPI)—The hobos of America had their annual convention here and put on a fight that left the Republicans and Democrats to shame.

The meeting was called up with the feeling that it was time for the hoboes to get a king of their own. Scoop, the king, got a shovel, the ex-king, got a shovel personal about the winner, the pike person.

The Republicans and Democrats will both have to go far to match the enthusiasm adopted by the hoboes.

It is stock four-seats a week, works a day, and days' vacation with a week's pay in employment offices, $1.50 an hour minimum pay, better welfare, $10 a month for rent, plus benefits over $60 and 100 per cent American.

In taking the oath of office, Hobo Boss said: "Now to help increase the size of banditdom" and "not to let any time with more than three sheets to the wind."

The annual convention drew 15,000 to this Iowa town since it was real hoboes. Others were there to burn attorney by the delicious aroma of Mulligan.

When Scoop showed he had been voted down, he couldn't stand it. He hoped to make his bid again and began declaiming on what he thought of Benson, Britt and the general. The air got pretty hot and Scoop showed he had to be led away.

American Housewife Tops in Common Crime of Shoplifting

HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (UPI)—The American housewife who has many virtues, also leads the nation in one form of crime—shoplifting.

Female-fingered customers cost department stores millions in losses.

"Salespeople are amateurs," she said. "The average housewife account for 75 per cent of the losses."

"They come in age from 8 to 80. A lot are teen-agers, but most are housewives between 20 and 40."

"The greatest number comes from the housewife," said Mrs. Mary Congdon, one of the nation's top store detectives.

"She is good," said Mrs. Boyle. "And if she keeps at it she soon learns all the tricks of the professionals."

Mrs. Congdon, special agent for William F. Alexander, a former investigator in the FBI, has two children.

Recently Max Hess, owner of an Allentown, Pa., department store, gave a training course for shoplifters.

Then, to put them to the test, Mrs. Congdon, who was unknown to them, went through the store to see what they could steal.

THE OLD MASTERS

SERVED UNDER FOUR TOP SERGEANTS
AN' NONE EVER BELLERED AN' SMORE, THERE'S A LOT OF COOKIN' AN'
IT LIKES YOULL NEVER SEE MORE.
THE TOP KICKS IN PICTURE AN' STORY
ARE CUSSIN' ALL OVER TH MAPS,
NOBODY'S GOIN' TO GET THEM
TAKIN' KICKS IN PICTURE AN' STORY TO SHAME EM TO GRITIN' THEIR TRAPS.
